Struck Unnoticed and Carried to Next Station.

WEALTH SCATTERED ON TRACK

Calvin S. Harlan and Part of Buggy Discovered on Front End of Engine at Ashland, Md.—Dead Horse and
$2,000 Found Near Scene of Accident
Not Far from Baltimore.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 8.—Calvin S. Harlan, of Baltimore, died at the City Hospital to-day of injuries received by being struck by a Northern Central Railway locomotive near Ashland at 9 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Harlan and part of the buggy in which he was riding were carried on the front end of the locomotive, a mile away, before the accident was discovered. He was at once taken off the engine and first aid rendered. The train was then backed to the scene of the accident, where the dead body of the horse was found.

Pick Up $2,000 Along Track.

About $2,000, which Mr. Harlan had with him at the time, was found scattered along the track. One passenger found a roll of bills containing $1,500 wedged between two rocks in the Gunpowder River, the passenger wading out to get it. Other passengers picked up notes of various denominations all along the tracks.

Mr. Harlan did not believe in savings banks and carried a good deal of money around with him. This explains how he came to have so much of it with him this morning.

As soon as possible Mr. Harlan was brought to Baltimore and sent to the City Hospital. He died shortly after he was admitted to that institution. An examination showed that his skull, right arm and left leg were fractured and that he had suffered internal injuries.

Find Man Clinging to Pilot.

He was conscious when removed from the engine. In speaking of the accident, he said that he did not see the train until it was too late to escape. The accident occurred on the tracks a short distance from Ashland. Mr. Harlan was driving to the home of George Jessop, for whom he was to do some surveying to-day. When the train which was an express from Harrisburg to Baltimore reached Cockeysville, the body of Mr. Harlan was found clinging to the pilot of the engine. The top of the buggy had also caught on the locomotive.

At first Mr. Harlan's injuries were thought to be slight, and many persons congratulated him upon his fortunate escape. It was not until he was being brought to Baltimore that the seriousness of his condition was realized.

Mr. Harlan was prominent surveyor of Baltimore County. Last year he was the Republican candidate for the office of county surveyor. He was defeated by the opponent, Col. Charles B. McLean, about a week ago.

WED AND GO TO PERDITION.

Others Are Lost Surely Because They Fail to Marry, Says Priest.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 8.—Rev. Francis Valentine, a Passionist priest and orator, created a sensation at the Cathedral last night by declaring that there were many souls in hell because they married, and just as many in heaven because they did not marry. He said:

"As God calls men to the priesthood, women to the cloister, so does he call them to the world to a married or an unmarried state. There is more wickedness among those who have married without a vocation than anywhere else. There are many souls in hell to-day because they should not have married when called to lead a single life; there are many souls in hell, too, because they chose a single life when they should have married."

"Our grandparents told us that matches were made in Heaven. Lucifer matches are made a great deal now, and many of them are made down stairs. Thank God, however, there are still a good many Christians among us; though we are to wonder that we have as many happy homes as there are when we consider the number in which men enter the sacred state. How can men and women be happy when they stand before the altar of God to make a mockery of the ceremony?"

"Parents should watch their children. They should see neither overanxious nor too harsh in checking matrimony. All parents are not capable of advising children in this respect. Goodness should rank above beauty, and a good heart is better than a handsome marriage. Yet young people plunge headlong into matrimony without a vocation. Choose, then, your vocation carefully, and if, after wedding, you learn to your horror you were not destined for it, the past is beyond recall, therefore pray to God. He will grant you the vocation which will fix you for the married state."

GRAIN CASE DECIDED.

Failure to Deliver Specified Grade of Oats Nullifies Obligation.

If a person contracts for one thing and gets another instead, he cannot be held to pay for it, according to a decision of the District Court of Appeals, rendered yesterday, in the case of Patrick T. Moran, appellant, against Emil W. Wagner.

Justice Robb reversed the judgment of the lower court, who instructed the jury to find a verdict in favor of Wagner, who had brought suit to recover $379 for merchandise from Moran.

Emil W. Wagner, who is a grain dealer of Chicago, some time ago brought suit to find a verdict in favor of Wagner, who had brought suit to recover $379 for merchandise from Moran.
